†††JMJ††† Short meditation for today †††JMJ†††

We must seek wisdom only in Jesus Christ. – Saint Thomas

St. Paulinus, writing to Aperi, a man of learning who had renounced the profane sciences to consecrate himself to God in the religious life, said: "Let orators exercise themselves to speak well, philosophers cultivate the sciences, the rich take care of their treasures; our kingdom is Jesus Christ." The same saint wrote to another who, in striving to acquire human knowledge, had neglected his salvation: "You find time to read the poets and orators, to study philosophy, and you find no time to be a Christian! Be a philosopher of God, study Jesus Christ in His school."

A zealous Christian silenced some persons who, through their own passions and the reading of bad books, had become unbelievers, by saying to them: "If Jesus Christ be not God, how comes it that all the prophecies regarding the Messiah are so perfectly verified in Him? How could He invent, preach, and spread a doctrine so sublime, which teaches man so perfectly to know God, his duties, his obligations, his last end? How is it that in presence of Jews and Pagans He performed such wonderful miracles? That His disciples also, in His name, performed miracles most astounding? How is it that in so short a time the world embraced Christianity? And all the efforts of impiety have been unable to overthrow it? Men who are most virtuous, most happy, are they not true Christians, who live according to the Gospel, and who obey the Catholic Church, which is the only Church of Jesus Christ?"

Prayer

O Jesus, my Savior and my God, if Thou art not God, God Himself has deceived us. O Jesus, have pity on those who have lost the precious gift of faith; enlighten those who are in darkness. I believe in Thee, I love Thee.

If thou art not prepared today how shalt thou be tomorrow? Tomorrow is an uncertain day; and how dost thou know that thou shalt be alive tomorrow?

†††JMJ††† A Scripture quote for today †††JMJ†††

A time to be born and a time to die. A time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted. A time to kill, and a time to heal. A time to destroy, and a time to build. A time to weep, and a time to laugh. A time to mourn, and a time to dance. A time to scatter stones, and a time to gather. A time to embrace, and a time to be far from embraces. A time to get, and a time to lose. A time to keep, and a time to cast away. A time to rend, and a time to sew. A time to keep silence, and a time to speak. A time of love, and a time of hatred. A time of war, and a time of peace.

THE VALUE OF TIME

Son, observe the time. (Ecclus., iv., 23)

Time is a treasure of inestimable value because in every moment of time we can gain an immense increase of grace and eternal glory. If the Blessed in Heaven could grieve, they would do so for having lost so much time; and in hell the lost souls are tormented with the thought that there is now no more time for them. Son, observe the time. – Saint Alphonsus Maria
